F1 FEVER GRIPS INDIA!

The smell of burning rubber and the screeching of cars zipping around at 300 km/hour are not far away now as Noida gears up to hosting the very first Indian Grand Prix this October. The race venue at the 5.14 km Buddh circuit in the satellite city of Greater Noida about 40km from the capital New Delhi is a $400 million investment by construction tycoon Jaiprakash Gaur's Jaypee Group.

The speed, the thrill, the big money, the bigger egos, Formula 1 isn't called a marketing circus for nothing. And with its desi debut lined up end October, all the big names want a piece of the pie. Alongside Airtel being the title sponsor, the other big sponsors include Red Bull who have brought in everything from its aero models to its bikers and to India, UB group which owns Force India and is the only Indian team in F1, Mercedes Benz, Shell, Renault, Castrol, JK Tyre, Vodafone, Tag Heuer, Helix, Reliance all have swooped down to tap the potential of this racy sport.

The event is expected to attract a large TV audience and organisers are confident of a full house of 120,000 spectators on the main race day, even with the relatively high entry prices. Buzz is that Shah Rukh Khan is trying to pull off a major publicity coup by bringing Formula One biggie, Michael Schumacher to India to take part in the first ever Indian Grand Prix. With big names like Fernando Alonso, Lewis Hamilton and Sebastian Vettel in the driving seat the experience of watching India's first Grand Prix will be even more special.

The pre race buzz has already set in with companies like JK who have kicked off carting events and pre-race parties. Rock band Metallica is scheduled to perform on October 28 on the eve of the race weekend. Title sponsor Airtel has announced two reality shows to choose India's very own grid girls and a competition hawking the coveted A-ticket for two for those playing Airtel's online racing game. While rival Vodafone has tied up with McLaren Mercedes team.
